

Call for applications for the 2018 NdM Mentoring Program "Routes into journalism"

The NdM mentoring program aims to support journalists with diverse migrant backgrounds by paving the way to a successful journalism career in Germany.

After many successful mentoring partnerships - which we've arranged since 2010 - we will once again be bringing together 50 mentees and experienced and renowned media professionals in 2018. Mentors will offer tips for everyday working life as well as provide support and advice throughout the year.

We offer:

- A unique opportunity for 50 aspiring journalists and displaced media professionals to be introduced to the media world by dedicated and renowned peers from the industry.
- Workshop weekend and visits to media sites online, print and radio).
- A broad network of experienced colleagues.
- The support of an established organization. As a network for journalists with migrant backgrounds, New German Media Professionals is a highly sought after voice where migration and the media meet.

The program begins with a kick-off event in January 2018 and will end with its closing reception in Berlin in December 2018.

Applications:

Applications open 16 October 2017 and will close on 30 November 2017. Participation is not subject to formal conditions. If you wish to apply, please visit the following link:

If you have any questions please contact us by phone on: 030 - 269 472 30 or via email at: mentoring@neuemedienmacher.de

We look forward to receiving your application.

Kind regards,

Rebecca Roth, Ebru Tasdemir and Elisabeth Gregull ("Routes into journalism" project team)

